Yes, I'm referring to the rates for moderate smoking. I think we can use the actual language/rates as a starting point, but if they are aware of the fact that the standard is being revised and recognize the language then we might have a problem. I like the other options you mentioned also. I would like to provide T. Scott with 2-3 options, and would also like to know if we could use that elsewhere since the smoking issue revolves around ventilation now.
