IN REGARD TO LUNG CANCER , Supposed to be caused by smoking Cigaretts, could this be only in persons who use the match to light the cigarett,?

As you know, smoke from sulphur is used for making one of the strongest acids known (Sulphuric) which will eat a piece of cloth in to ashes in a few minutes.

In using a match the other day to light a cigarett I got the full pull of Sulphur smoke when the match blew out, which mixed with a little water or moister should produce enough of this acid to eat a small hole in something, I use a lighter unless out in the wind, and this is the best time to get the blown out match effect, and it dosnt feel or taste pleasant.

I have been a CAMEL smoker for more then 25 year, Just giving you a thought.
