To the Editor:

How many of the 36,000 people in Missouri do you suppose realize that they have a job, at least in part, because of us smokers? Your recent story on tobacco's economic impact should make a lot of people take notice of just how much tobacco means here. The tax revenue Missouri gets was a real eye opener too. The (tax $174.8 million figure) goes to provide services for non-smokers as well as us smokers. Think of what your tax bill might be without the tobacco industry.

Sincerely,
